

The background of the menu cover is a photograph of a fish and chips meal. A large, golden-brown fried fish fillet is garnished with fresh green herbs and sits on a piece of white parchment paper. Beside it is a metal basket filled with thick-cut, golden french fries. A small white bowl of creamy tartar sauce, also garnished with herbs, is visible in the upper right. A white and red striped napkin is tucked under the food. The entire scene is set on a light-colored wooden table with a visible grain.
